WRITTEN FOR THE LADIES' BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.

"And from the prayer of want, and plaint of woe,
O sever, never turn away thine ear;
Forlorn, in this bleak wilderness below.
Ah! what were man should heaven refuse to hear!"

What is every persons business, is the business of no one.
SIR;

Having done me the favor to insert, in the Islander, my letter of the 1st inst. on the fallen state of the Treasury notes now in circulation, I have to thank you, and request you will allow me space for a few observations in continuation. The subject appears to have a hold of the public mind. I have heard, moreover, that on Saturday, a few hours after the publication of your paper, a notice was served

CHAPTER VIII.

MISS ALLEYNE.

High the wheels of God grind slowly, they grind exceeding small, He stands and waits with patience, 'till exactness grinds His will.

Having parted with his friend at a station, began his tour through the country, he was received with hospitality for which Americans are famous in every city where he remained.

WANTED.

At The News office two intelligent boys, about 15 years of age, who would like to learn the printing business in all departments and who would be willing to work for the news office to remain five years in order to go in the city. On the other hand, should this boy be able to bring about a change in the news office of learning and has been taught by the press of the trade thoroughly—an ex-School Commissioner. The opportunity that is not offered to them is an unpleasant one. It should be a city office and it would be.

GROCERIES

Looking over the grocer's advertisements, it is an object of the public to go where they find the lowest quotations. This, in some instances, is a great mistake. Some grocers use the public as their advertising medium, paying to the newspapers the cost of their advertising in order to their customers. The way that this is done is, in the first place, to have up, packed and delivered all over the city
our own teams. Consider of this great advantage to our customers, they will not fair price
it, if not lower, than anybody in the city or it will or can name them. The following are of our quotations:

"Labor notes" occupy a prominent ap-

who compile them have so far failed to tell labor how to get its hands on notes without laboring from eight to ten hours a day for them.

This is a favored State. It is escaping not only the earthquake but the sea serpent. The latter may yet prove as destructive in New York as the former has in South Carolina.
These things should be remembered in count-
